Genesis' First Sleepover

By: Bella

One day, a girl named Genesis woke up so excited because it was Friday. It wasn't just any regular old Friday. She was going to have her first sleepover at her friend's house! Then her mom came in and told Genesis to get ready for school, so she brushed her teeth and she did her hair. She put her clothes on, went to eat breakfast, got her backpack and waited outside for the bus. When she got on the bus, she sat right next to her friend and they did their special handshake. They were so excited for the sleepover! They got out of the bus because the were already at school and then went to class together. When class started, they did math first for 20 minutes. Then they moved on to reading for 10 min, read books for 5 min, and then went to lunch. They day felt like it was taking forever! They got their food and sat down at their table While they ate, they talked all about the sleepover: what were they going to do, what they would eat, and what they would watch. The rest of the day went by just as slow as the morning. When they went home on the bus, Genesis' friend's mom came to pick up Genesis from her house. They had so much fun in the sleepover! They ate McDonald's for dinner and then ate so much candy and chips while they watched their favorite movie. Then went to sleep. In the morning, they woke up, changed, and ate breakfast. They had so much fun, Genesis didn't want to leave. The friend's mom called Genesis' mom to ask her if Genesis could stay more. The mom said yes, she could stay and go back to her house at 2:10pm. Before they knew it, it was already 2:10 pm, so they went to drop her off at her house. Genesis had the best first sleepover ever.
